END OF W. C. T. U. CONVENTION. Last of the Temple-Mrs. Carse Says Farewell.

ST. PAUL, November 16.-The closing day of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of the United States was very full of business, many delayed superintend-ents' reports being heard. The last of the Temple was heard at the morning ses-sion, when Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, of Illinois, who for nineteen years has been president of the Woman's Temperance Publishing Association, made her last report from that affiliated organization, and then, laying aside her report, delivered a brief and very touching farewell to those with whom she had so long been associated. In announcing her retirement from the Publishing Association, Mrs. Carse said she would fill once more her well-known column on the Temple in the Union Signal, the organ of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, after which it would be transferred to the columns of the Ap-peal, the publication which will be trans-ferred from Nebraska to Chicago, to be-come the organ of the Willard Memorial Chroles, which will work in behalf of the Mrs. Thurman, of Michigan, presented the report on the work among colored people. North Carolina, having gained 6.000 members, was awarded the department medal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 16 .-(Special.)-It is stated, on what is deemed to be excellent authority, that the recent movement to make the Fauquier White Sulphur Springs a great military sanatorium, or home for soldiers made in valids and disabled during the war with Spain, was suggested by an offer from Mrs. Hamilton Fish, of New York, to purchase the property for that purpose, prosent it to the government, and have i named in honor of her grandson, Captain Hamilton Fish, who was killed in from of Santiago. The offer was privately made to the government, and the greatest secrecy was maintained regarding it, but it will be remembered, as stated in this ondence, that an officer of Medical Department was sent to the Fauquier White to inspect it, with a view to creating such an institution as above stated. Some of the officials in the sur-geon-general's office, approached to-day on the subject, admitted that the property had been inspected for such a pur-pose, but they were unaware that the venerable Mrs. Fish had had anything to do with the matter, although such might have been the case, without their knowledge. However, as will be recollected, the inspecting officer made an adverse report, stating that while the sanitary conditions of the White Sulphur Springs were excellent—almost unsur-passed—the railroad facilities were inadequate, and for this reason it could not be utilized for a soldlers' home. My informant states that Mrs. Fish still insists on establishing the Hamilton Fish Home, and has tendered a donation of $309,000 to the government, and further, that a location has been selected at some point in Alabama, the acceptance of which is now under consideration by the govern-

It is argued here that there is no point in Alabama which is as healthful and so well suited for a soldiers' home as the Fauquier White, and there is said to have been a subsequent movement to have the matter reconsidered. If the railroads are not near enough, it would be an easy mat-ter to build a branch, out of the ample means Mrs. Fish would provide, or this might be done by the government.

DEATH OF MISS STEVENSON. Miss Sallie Stevenson, of Fredericks-ourg, died to-day at the Metropolitan Hotel, at an advanced age. She had been a sufferer for many years from a spinal trouble, and moved about with difficulty on crutches, but was always cheerful, and was a great favorite with her assoclates. She is said to have been a clerk in the Confederate Treasury Department during the war between the tates, at the close of which she went to Kentucky, where she resided for awhile with a well-known family of that State, who were her near relatives. Some twenty years ago she was appointed to a clerkship in the Treasury Department here from Kentucky, which position she

Mr. Chamberlain warmly defended the government's Chinese policy, contending that Great Britain had "good reason to be satisfied with the results obtained, as compared with other Powers."

Regarding the contention that Great Bri-tain ought to have an agreement with saloon, in West Huntsville to-day, and Russia, he said: "Experience has taught us that we require a better guarantee than a paper agreement to secure the policy of an open door. The best security, in my on, is the desire of other nations, like Japan, Germany, and the United States, to preserve an open door. Japan is be-coming an important Power, with whom our relations throughout have been those of cordial friendship; while with Germany and the United States our relations, I rejoice to say, are now closer and more cor-dial than they have been for some time. CONDUCT OF THE WAR

LACK OF PROVISION SOMEWHERE AGAINST OUTBREAK OF FEVER.

TAMPA EMBARKATION HAPHAZARD.

Transportation Facilities at Santiago Inadequate-Camp Equipage Withheld by Shafter's Order-Men Without Tents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 16 .-Major Lagarde continued his testimony before the War Investigating Commission to-day, concerning the conduct of the war from a medical point of view. He spoke first of the yellow-fever hospital at Siboney, which was under his charge in a general way. He was satisfied, however, that the hospital was well conducted and that supplies on the whole were

Dr. Conner asked whether the contingency of yellow-fever could not have been provided against, asking whether ff, in his judgment, it should not have been known by the surgeon-general that under the circumstances there would be an outbreak of fever.

"He should have known that such were the probabilities, and everybody should have known that such were the chances, in sending an army into an infected region in the summer season," replied Major Lagarde. "Evidently the surgeongeneral did foresee what would happen, and his worders this subject written. and his words on this subject, written before the expedition set out, and giving warning against the invasion at the time it was undertaken, reads like a prophecy.' LACK OF IMMUNES.

The witness added that under these cir-cumstances he could not understand why more complete provision should not have been made for supplying immune medical assistants, and he did not know but that the corps surgeon had asked for this as-sistance in advance. He knew only that they had not been adequately provided. Apparently, however, the army depended upon the yellow-fever experts to say when yellow-fever would break out. However, it must be said that the yellowfever was very mild. The mortality among the sick in Cuba was less than that among those left in the United States. Dr. Lagarde expressed the opinion that if the soldiers had been fully equipped there would have been less sickness among them, and he thought that much barna. The of the trouble was due to the fact that diers were compelled to lie on the quartermaster of the Fifth Corps at Tam-pa and Cuba, testified that General Hum-phries had been in charge of the em-barkation of the troops at Tampa, and that no order specifying what vessels the different commands were to occupy had been furnished. In reply to a ques-tion from Governor Beaver, he said that the embarkation had been a haphazard affair—"decidedly so." He also thought there was great difficulty in the provisions for disembarkation, as only two lighters were provided, and one of these was lost on the way over.

Colonel Jacobs had charge of the transportation facilities at Santiago, and he expressed the opinion that there were not a sufficient number of wagons. General Shafter's first order had been to take only fifty wagons. When General Miles went to Tampa he doubled the number, but even this order did not secure a sufficient number. SHAFTER WITHHELD CAMP EQUI-

PAGE. General McCook developed a quite animated episode by asking if there was any reason why the cooking utensils and camp equipage of the troops should not have been forwarded from Daiquiri to the troops in the field. "There was no reason." Colonel Jacobs replied, "except that General Shafter's order forbade it." Continuing, he said that the order was most positive. It did not specify what should not be forwarded, but it was most specific in providing that only forage and rations should be forwarded.

cooked, but he thought the men should have had some facilities for cooking. The order had never been changed during the month he remained at Daiquiri. Dr. Conner asked whether orders had been given to leave all the hospital equipments behind at Tampa, and Colonel Jacobs responded that it was his impres-sion that such was the case. He had personal knowledge that General Shafter ad given such an order concerning the ambulances.

CONDITIONS AT MONTAUK Captain Jonathan N. Patton, who, as assistant quartermaster, had made the contracts for the construction of the quartermaster's and commissary build-ings for Camp Wikoff and Montauk Point, also testified at the morning session.

The witness said there had been great deal of injustice in the criticism in the newspapers concerning the delay of sick men at the depots going off on furloughs. "There was no neglect in this matter," he said, "and no more discomfort than is necessary in removing seats and cots while they waited."

LACK OF COTS AT SIBONEY. At the afternoon session Captain M. Ireland, who was associated with Dr. Lagarde as a surgeon and as execu tive officer in the Siboney hospital, testi fied in regard to that institution. He complained of the scarcity of cots, not over fifty being provided, while the hos-pital had been supplied for 200 patients Many of the sick were compelled to lie on their blankets on the ground. SUFFERING FOR LACK OF TENTS.

Dr. Edward L. Munson, who for a time was on duty at Tampa and in Cuba, and also served as adjutant to General Pope, chief surgeon of the Fifth Corps, said the condition of the army before Santiago was lamentable, owing largely to the fact that the men were without tents. For the first two or three days also there were practically no supplies on shore. So far as he could determine, the quartermaster's department had made no effort to assist the medical department, leaving it entirely to its own devices. He thought there was sufficient dressing for th wounded, sufficient medicines and suffi cient surgical instruments, but there was a lack of tents and cots and of suitable diet. He knew that Dr. Pope had protested against the sailing until supplies which had been ordered could be received PLENTY OF SUPPLIES AT MONTAUK Colonel W. H. Forward, who was the chief medical officer at Montauk Point, testified that his instructions were to have on hand at all times tents, beds, and representations that they were not there were not correct. There was however, lack of transportation facilities and there was difficulty in getting supplies from the station, this fact being due largely to the limited capacity of the railroad depot. He asserted that not for a minute had patients remained outside the hospitals without protection from that

Dr. Forward said that much of the crowding in the hospitals was due to the fact that many soldiers sought to gain admission as a means of getting a fur

ADJOURNMENT TO NEW YORK. General Dodge announced, at the close of to-day's session, that the commission would leave here at 11 o'clock to-morrow night for New York.

While in that city, the Fifth-Avenue Horel would be the headquarters, and meetings will be held there, the first one beginning Friday at 10 o'clock. AN IMPORTANT POINT. An important point developed by the War Investigating Commission to-day,

What Is the Right Price of a Piano?

A fair profit over and above the cost of the Piano and the slight expense of doing an economically conducted business. Can any Richmond firm pay a dividend on a $2,000,000 capital? No. not u most enjoyable time.

The various contests continue to increase in interest as each night passes, piano. Won't the people find constantly increasing, the friends of the various contestants being destrous of having their favorite in the lead.

Last night's poll showed: For the Elkarpin, Thomas Boudar, 371-2; Rodger Atkinson, 28; P. T. Murphy, 65; Monroe Levy, 2, and L. C. Grisselbrecht, For the gold-headed cane, W. J. Doyle, 65; Joseph Duggan, 10; Joseph Fariey, 40, and H. C. Brauer, 11. For the police badge, Whitlock, 801-2; Hulce, 62, and Angle, 391-2. For Fatter O'Reilly's picture, the McGill Union leads, with 301-2, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Division, No. 2, being second. out this double pressure way of another-that you can pay 85 monthly when you choose, although the contract calls for $10. In the end you may lose the Piano and possibly your religion, too. Facts—better Pianos, lower terms, less talk, more business than any store of our size in the State of Virginia. Pianos sold, exchanged, tuned, and repaired.
